The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday September 30. to Tuesday October 3. 1727.

St. James's, October 3.

THE following Addreſſes having been tranſmitted to his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, have by him been preſented to His Majeſty, who was pleaſed to receive them very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High-Sheriff, Grand-Jury, Juſtices of the Peace, Gentlemen and Freeholders of the County of Down, at an Aſſizes held for the ſaid County at Downpatrick, the 12th of Auguſt 1727.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to lay hold of this Opportunity to congratulate your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors, which Bleſſing can only repair the Loſs we have ſuſtained by the Death of our late King your Royal Father, whoſe Memory muſt be ever dear to all your Proteſtant Subjects, and true Lovers of Liberty.

The repeated Aſſurances your Majeſty has been graciouſly pleaſed to give, inviolably to maintain and defend the Religious and Civil Rights of your Subjects, challenge from us our moſt ſincere and hearty Profeſſions of Duty and Zeal for your Perſon and Government.

When we conſider the Power and Influence of your Naval Forces, directed by your wiſe Counſels at Home; and behold your Majeſty, a Prince of conſummate Wiſdom, the Arbiter of Europe, holding the Balance of Power in your Hands; when we ſee your Royal Conſort our moſt gracious Queen, endowed with all conjugal as well as publick Vertues; your numerous Iſſue, the dear Pledges of our future Happineſs, trained up from an early Infancy in the true Maxims of Government; what ſure and certain Hopes muſt we have of a long and laſting Peace and Felicity?

Accept therefore, moſt gracious Sovereign, theſe our unfeigned Engagements, firmly to adhere to your Majeſty's Perſon and Government, and the Succeſſion eſtabliſhed in your moſt illuſtrious Houſe; and may you long reign, as you have begun, in the Hearts and Affections of your People, as the only Security of our Happineſs at Home, and the Proteſtant Intereſt Abroad.

[Price Two-Pence.]

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Juſtices of the Peace, Grand Jury, Clergy, Gentlemen, and Freeholders of the County of Donegall, met at a General Aſſizes held at Lifford on the 15th Day of Auguſt, 1727.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE humbly beg Leave to condole with your Majeſty for the Death of your Royal Father, of glorious Memory, and to congratulate your peaceable Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors. It was with the greateſt Pleaſure we obſerved from your Majeſty's moſt gracious Declaration in Council, that your Majeſty had formed that Plan of Government which muſt naturally produce a Reign glorious and eaſy to yourſelf, and happy to your People. Whilſt the eſtabliſhed Religion, Laws and Liberties of your Kingdoms, which are ſo dear to your Subjects, are declared to be alſo dear to your Majeſty, your People are ſecured in the moſt valuable of their Poſſeſſions, and have nothing left to wiſh for, but proper Occaſions of manifeſting their Duty and Gratitude to the wiſeſt and beſt of Sovereigns.

That your Majeſty's Reign may be long and glorious, and happy in the Poſſeſſion of your excellent Queen, the Glory of her Sex, of a hopeful Royal Iſſue, and the united Affections of all your People, are the ſincere Prayers of us,

Your faithful Subjects of this County.

The following humble Addreſs of the Inhabitants of the ancient and loyal Borough of Aylesbury, in the County of Bucks, has been preſented to His Majeſty by the Honourable Sir William Stanhope and Philip Lloyd, Eſq; introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Albemarle Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE beg Leave to joyn with the reſt of your Majeſty's Subjects, in giving your Majeſty the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances of our Duty and Loyalty to your Perſon and Government; as we ſincerely joyn in the univerſal and undiſſembled Joy of the whole Nation upon your your Majeſty's peaceable and happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Royal Anceſtors.

The common and (in former Reigns) the unregarded Offers of Lives and Fortunes, are now become the ſincere and real Sentiments of a grateful and a happy People; Gratitude obliges us to venture our Lives in Defence of that King, who ſo early and ſo glorioufly expoſed his own to preſerve our Liberties; and Prudence directs us to ſupport, with our Fortunes, him who alone can ſecure them to us.

As we are thoroughly ſenſible of our preſent Happineſs under your Majeſty, who are ſo zealous for our Religion, ſo tender of our Liberties, ſo frugal of our Treaſures, and ſo indefatigable in your perſonal Care of them all; we have likewiſe the additional Satisfaction to reflect, that we ſhall tranſmit it to our own Poſterity, by leaving them under the Care and Protection of your's.

May they early inherit your Majeſty's Virtues, and thoſe of your Royal Conſort; but may they be long formed by your great Example, and late inherit your Kingdoms.

The following Addreſs having been tranſmitted to his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has by him been preſented to His Majeſty, who was pleaſed to receive it very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Juſtices of the Peace, and Gentlemen Freeholders of the County of Tyrone, at an Aſſizes held at Omagh, the 11th Day of Auguſt, 1727.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, beg Leave to condole with your moſt Sacred Majeſty on the much lamented Death of your Royal Father our late gracious Sovereign, and to congratulate your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of your Anceſtors.

Your Majeſty has been ſo gracious as to declare from the Throne, that our Religion, Laws and Liberties, are dear to you, for which we return our moſt humble Thanks: You have thereby ſecured the Hearts of your Subjects, and blaſted the Hopes of your Enemies; you are the Terrour of the one, and the Delight of the other.

Many of our Fellow-Subjects exceed us in Wealth and Power; they enjoy the Bleſſing of your Royal Preſence, which by our diſtant Situation we are deprived of; but we aſſure your Majeſty, that none of them ſhall exceed us in Zeal for your Glory, Obedience to your Authority, and Affection for your Perſon.

Your Majeſty's early Valour in the Field has immortalized your Name, pointed out the Man equal to the Britiſh Throne: So much Courage and ſo much Conduct is admired, and would be ſurprizing to all, were it not Hereditary.

May your Reign be as eaſy to yourſelf as 'tis happy to your People; may your Royal Conſort live many Years the Partner of your Proſperity, ſuch as your renowned Virtues deſerve; may your Royal Iſſue follow the bright Example of their Anceſtors; may your Enemies behold the Felicity of your Government with Confuſion and Deſpair, your Friends with Delight, and your Neighbours with Reſpect; and may your Majeſty, in Length of Days and Glory, exceed your moſt renowned Predeceſſors.

The following humble Addreſs of the Mayor, Aldermen and Burgeſſes of the ancient and loyal Borough of Weſtbury, in the County of Wilts, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Francis Anneſly, Eſq; introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Paget Lord of the Bedchamber to His Majeſty in waiting. Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, do beg Leave to condole with your Majeſty upon the Death of our late Sovereign of glorious Memory; and at the ſame Time to congratulate your Majeſty on your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of theſe Realms, and to aſſure your Majeſty of our unfeigned Duty and Allegiance to your Government.

We, being a trading People, promiſe ourſelves, that under your auſpicious Reign, a laſting Peace will be ſettled in Europe; that the Commerce of this Iſland will flouriſh, eſpecially, that Staple Branch of it, the Woollen Manufacture, in which we are particularly concerned, and Plenty flow in upon us; and that ſuch Taxes as are heavy upon the poor Manufacturers will be lightened by your Majeſty's princely Goodneſs and Care of your Subjects.

That your Majeſty may long reign over us, and be the happy King of a flouriſhing and loyal People, ſhall be the daily Prayers of us, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and obedient Subjects.

The following Addreſs having been tranſmitted to his Excellency the Lord Carteret Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has by him been preſented to His Majeſty, who was pleaſed to receive it very graciouſly.

To the King's moſt Excellent Majeſty,

The humble Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, Juſtices of the Peace, Gentlemen Freeholders, aſſembled together at a General Aſſizes held for the King's County at Philips-Town, the 10th Day of Auguſt, 1727.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WHILST we condole with you for the Loſs of our great common Parent, your Royal Father King George, of Memory ever dear to Proteſtants; permit us, Great Sir, to approach approach you with joyful and unfeigned Hearts, for your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of theſe Imperial Realms, your undoubted Right.

And as you, in your Royal Goodneſs, have declared, that our Laws and Liberties in Church and State, ſhall be dear to you; ſo we beg Leave to give you the utmoſt Aſſurances, that our Lives and Fortunes ſhall not be more dear to us than your Royal Rights and Prerogatives; under which we are well pleas'd to live, and in Defence of which we are ready to die.

As we have beheld you Brave in the Field, Wiſe in the Council, Great in the Adminiſtration; what may we not promiſe to ourſelves, Proſperous, Great and Glorious?

May the Crown of theſe Realms long flouriſh on your Head.

May you live in the Hearts of your Subjects, and they in your Favour and Protection.

May you long ſway the Scepter of a dutiful and loyal People, chearful in their Obedience, and intirely devoted to your Service; of which Number, we your Majeſty's Subjects of your King's County in Ireland, ſolemnly declare ourſelves, in full Zeal and Affection to your Majeſty's moſt ſacred Perſon and Government; aſſuring you, that at all Times we ſhall give our utmoſt Oppoſition to all your Enemies, if ſuch there can be: This we have ſworn; in this we will perſevere.

In the Fullneſs of our Hearts, we beg Leave, on this Occaſion, to tender the inviolable Attachments and Affection which we bear towards Her Majeſty your Royal Conſort --- Great Princeſs! --- May her Vertues long give Luſtre to the Jewels of the Britiſh Crown, the juſt Reward of her Proteſtant Heart!

May our Poſterity for ever in your's enjoy the Bleſſings inſeparably annex'd to the Offſpring of ſo great a Pair: May the Virtues of their Education ſhine in their Government; and may a Proteſtant of your moſt illuſtrious Houſe never be wanting to fill the Throne of a willing People till Time ſhall be no more.

Lisbon, Sept. 26, N. S. The 20th Inſtant M. Montagnac the French Conſul, who is alſo charged with the Affairs of his Court, notified to their Portugueſe Majeſties the Queen of France's being brought to Bed of two Princeſſes. Laſt Monday ſailed from hence the Victoria, a Portugueſe Man of War, for Mazagaon, having on Board S. Jaques Magalhaens, appointed by his Portugueſe Majeſty Governour and Captain General of that Place. The ſame Day went out Noſſa Senhora da Lampadoza, bound for the Iſland of Madeira: This Ship has likewiſe carried Don Fillipe de Alarcao Maſcarenhas, who was ſome Time ago named for Governour of that Iſland. The 23d Inſtant the Marqueſs de los Balbazes, his Catholick Majeſty's Ambaſſadour Extraordinary, gave an Entertainment to the Counſellours of State and chief Nobility, for celebrating the Birth of the Prince of Aſturias, who that Day enter'd into his 15th Year.
